

VISIONARY PIONEERS OF THE CHANGING WORLD

The faculty which comprehends that the world is changing, transforming and developing faster than ever before, raises individuals who understand this change well, use their knowledge and skills to contribute to society, industry and universal knowledge, and thus lead the society in their field. The education curriculum of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences which aims to train competent and qualified human-resource in their fields, has been established within the framework of the qualifications that our students will need in the professional and academic field.

Applied Education Approach

In addition to the theoretical courses, the theoretical knowledge of our students, who continue their education with the educational content in which professional practices are applied, is reinforced with applications. Students will spend their education life in a university environment enriched with academic and social opportunities. They are provided with extra-curricular current knowledge with conferences, seminars and panels. Their artistic and aesthetic needs are met with artistic activities such as exhibitions, excursions, movies and concerts. They are ensured to discover themselves and grow up as sophisticated individuals.

Strong Academic Staff and International Opportunities

All courses at our faculty are taught by academicians who have proven their expertise in their disciplines, play an active role in various national and international projects, especially in TÜBİTAK and European Union programs. Our faculty members, who are competent with their work in national and international academic platforms, and have a say in their fields with their scientific research and publications, are among the important riches of our faculty. It is aimed that students at the faculty gain experience not only in the country but also abroad, and become individuals who can see the world from different perspectives. Various opportunities are given to the students by academic and cultural collaborations abroad, international expansions with Bologna process and ERASMUS+ programs in order to make students to have access to the world and the universal knowledge.

Philosophy (Turkish)

The department, which is structured with the aim of being the representative and implementer of a new understanding; aims to implement a program for acquiring the traditional philosophy culture and at the same time using this culture to understand the present. The survival of philosophy for thousands of years is closely related to its multifaceted relationship with the problems of its age. Philosophy has also dealt with human, society and nature throughout the ages, and has therefore always been intertwined with the sciences. Artificial intelligence studies have been added to these fields, especially in relation to logic. The academic staff of Istinye University allows our students to take courses from different disciplines in line with their interests, to do minor and double major, and to be educated as philosophers of the future. The traditional -critical- method that philosophy uses to understand problems and produce solutions has been reshaped thanks to its increasingly deepening relationship with logic. With the training program to be implemented; our department will encourage understanding the present and offering solutions to problems, and ultimately questioning the relationship between science-philosophy-human-society; aims to equip our graduates with skills that they can use in every field.
